Directions for person acting as “CPI/counselor”:

1. Explain the Family Map to the family in a way that motivates their participation in the process.

2. Draw a Family Map for the Mason family.

3. Use the questions the group has composed to elicit information regarding family composition and relationships, or use others as the conversation indicates.

4. Review the Family Map with the family to verify the information, and if appropriate, to point out any strengths identified.

5. Select one member of the group to share the process and outcome with the whole group during the debriefing.

6. Have the family members share their feelings and observations about the experience.
